4) The Seven Principles

Selflessness

Those in public office should take decisions solely in terms of the public interest. They should not do so to gain financial or other material benefits for themselves, their family or their friends.

Integrity

Those in office should not place themselves under any financial or other obligation to outside individuals or organisations that might influence them in the performance of their official duties.

Objectivity

In carrying out business, including making appointments, awarding contracts, or recommending individuals for rewards and benefits, holders of office should make choices on merit.

Accountability

Those in office are accountable for their decisions and actions to the members and must submit themselves to whatever scrutiny is appropriate to their office.

Openness

Those in office should be as open as possible about all the decisions and actions that they take. They should give reasons for their decisions and restrict information only when the wider interest clearly demands.

Honesty

Those in office have a duty to declare any private interests relating to their duties and to take steps to resolve any conflicts arising in a way that protects the interest.

Leadership

Those in office should promote and support these principles by leadership and example.

Much of the work of the Charity will be undertaken at meetings, small and large. The effectiveness of these meetings is critical because they will be:

- a) The principal decision-making tools.
  - b) The principal method of wider community and partner involvement.
  - c) The behaviour of participants at a meeting is important to the success of the meeting. Some people may lack the confidence to express themselves fully in a meeting with other people, whereas some find it all too easy to dominate.

  - f) Individual and personal disputes should not be allowed to affect conduct within the meeting but should be resolved elsewhere.

  - i) Individuals should respect the contributions of others by not interrupting when someone is speaking even when you may not agree with what they are saying.
  - j) In contributing to the meeting individuals will ensure that comments they make do not amount to a personal attack on another individual and should avoid using heated, emotional and value loaded language and behaviour.

- k) Individuals should be constantly aware in their remarks, of their equal responsibilities and avoid the use of potentially offensive language and comments.
  - l) Individuals should above all remember that collective decision-making means not always getting the decision you want and accepting the responsibility of abiding by majority decisions.
  - m) It is very important that decisions taken in meetings are well informed by having appropriate, accurate information and debate on the topics concerned. Members and the wider community must be able to feel that decisions, particularly those affecting the spending of public funds, are fair and have not been influenced by the vested interests of those making these decisions or based on misinformation. For this reason, one of the most important areas of appropriate behaviour during meetings, in addition to the above, relates to declarations of interest.
  - n) The Chair of the meeting has the right to ask any person to leave if their conduct is unacceptable.

36) Voting

- a) All members present at a meeting are entitled to one vote.
- b) Non-Executive Directors present at a meeting are entitled to one vote. Unless in the case of a tie, where a casting vote may be made if there are an odd number of Non-Executive Directors present. Should this not be the case the Chair will have the casting vote, as per (e), in this section.
- c) Voting at a meeting shall be decided by a show of hands unless before, or on the declaration of the result of the show of hands, a secret ballot is demanded by the person chairing the meeting or by at least two members present who have the right to vote at the meeting.
- d) If a secret ballot be demanded, the Returning Officer will be appointed from among those present by a simple majority.
- e) Should a tie arise then the Chair of the meeting shall have a casting or second vote.
- f) At an Annual General Meeting should a position be contested by more than two candidates, the person with the fewest votes in the first round shall be eliminated then a re-vote process shall continue until a simple majority is reached. In the event of a tie, the decision will be by means of a secret ballot of the Non-Executive Directors present.

- c) Applicants successful at the interview stage are invited to an Extraordinary General Meeting to be voted in by the membership via the means of a simple majority vote. At the meeting, applicants make a short introduction about themselves and can be asked questions. If successful at the voting stage, they are appointed as a Non-Executive Director.

- b) Please note that, in the first instance, failure to abide by this code of conduct will be addressed by an Oxford Pride committee member, and the issue will be communicated to the volunteer(s) in question. However, serious or repeated breaches will not be tolerated, and may result in any individual or group not being allowed to continue as volunteers, being removed from an event, and where applicable being referred to the police.

41) Harassment & Bullying Policy

1. General principles

- a) The Charity is committed to maintaining an environment in which the rights and dignity of all its members, and attendees, are respected.
- b) The Charity expects all members to treat each other with respect, courtesy and consideration. All members have the right to expect professional behaviour from others, and a corresponding responsibility to behave professionally towards others.
- c) Harassment is a serious offence. Where necessary, complaints of harassment, bullying or other inappropriate behaviour will be investigated in line with the appropriate procedures.
- d) All members have a personal responsibility for complying with this code and people in positions of authority, such as Directors and Trustees, have responsibilities under this policy, including to set a good personal example, to have regard to the principles of the policy, and to familiarise themselves with the procedures.
- e) This policy will be subject to regular review.

2. Definitions

A. Harassment

- a) A person subjects another to harassment where they engage in unwanted and unwarranted conduct which has the purpose or effect of:
  - b) violating that other's dignity, or
  - c) creating an intimidating, hostile, degrading, humiliating or offensive environment for that other.
- d) Harassment may involve repeated forms of unwanted and unwarranted behaviour, but a one-off incident can also amount to harassment.
- e) Harassment on grounds of sex (including gender re-assignment), race, religion or belief, disability, sexual orientation or age may amount to unlawful discrimination. Harassment and bullying may occur not only on grounds of characteristics or perceived characteristics of the recipient of the behaviour but also on grounds of the characteristics or perceived characteristics of a person associated with them.
- f) Harassment may also breach other legislation and may in some circumstances be a criminal offence, e.g. under the provisions of the Protection from Harassment Act 1997.
- g) Reasonable and proper management instructions administered reasonably, or reasonable and proper review of a member's work and/or performance will not constitute harassment or bullying.
- h) Behaviour will not amount to harassment if the conduct complained of could not reasonably be perceived as offensive.

B. Bullying

Bullying is a form of harassment. It may be characterised by offensive, intimidating, malicious or insulting behaviour, or misuse of power through means intended to undermine, humiliate, denigrate or injure the recipient.

C. Behaviour

Examples of behaviour which may amount to harassment and bullying include (but are not limited to) the following:

- a) offensive comments or body language
- b) verbal or physical threats
- c) insulting, abusive, embarrassing or patronising behaviour or comments
- d) humiliating, intimidating, and/or demeaning criticism
- e) open hostility
- f) deliberately undermining a competent person by overloading with work and constant criticism
- g) isolation from normal workplace, conversations, or social events
- h) publishing, circulating or displaying pornographic, racist, homophobic, sexually suggestive or otherwise offensive pictures or other materials
- i) unwanted physical contact, ranging from an invasion of space to a serious assault.
- j) Many of these examples of behaviour may occur when using the Internet, email, social networking sites, or telephone.
- k) All the examples above may amount to bullying, particularly when the conduct is coupled with the inappropriate exercise of power or authority over another person.
- l) Being under the influence of alcohol, illegal drugs or otherwise intoxicated is not an excuse for harassment and may be regarded as an aggravating feature.

D. Intention or motives

The intention or motives of the person whose behaviour is the subject of a complaint are not conclusive in deciding if behaviour amounts to harassment or bullying.

E. Victimisation

- a) Victimisation occurs where a person is subjected to detrimental treatment because s/he has, in good faith, made an allegation of harassment, or has indicated an intention to make such an allegation, or has assisted or supported another person in bringing forward such an allegation, or participated in an investigation of a complaint, or participated in any disciplinary hearing arising from an investigation.
- b) The Charity seeks to protect any member from victimisation arising because of bringing a complaint or assisting in an investigation where they act in good faith. Victimisation is a form of misconduct which may itself result in a disciplinary process.

F. Confidentiality

All information concerning allegations of harassment must be treated in the strictest confidence and breaches of confidentiality may give rise to disciplinary action. All parties involved in a complaint (including any witnesses who may be interviewed as part of any investigation, or trade union representatives supporting any of the parties) should maintain the confidentiality of the process.

42) Safeguarding Policy

- a) This policy is designed to offer protection to individuals who disclose such concerns provided the disclosure is made:
  - a. in good faith
  - b. in the reasonable belief of the individual making the disclosure that it tends to show malpractice or impropriety and if they make the disclosure to an appropriate person (see below). It is important to note that no protection from internal disciplinary procedures is offered to those who choose not to use the procedure.
- b) The Charity is committed to good practice and high standards and wants to be supportive of members.
- c) The Charity recognises that the decision to report a concern can be a difficult one to make. If what is reported is true, individuals should have nothing to fear because they will be doing a duty to the company and those for whom you are providing a service.
- d) The Charity will not tolerate any harassment or victimisation (including informal pressures) and will take appropriate action to protect individuals when they raise a concern in good faith.
- e) Any investigation into allegations of potential malpractice will not influence or be influenced by any disciplinary procedures that already affect members.

43) Social Networking Policy

- a) Any posts made must relate to the aims and objectives of the Group.
  - b) Posts/comments may be deleted at the discretion of the Directors. Prior to deletion, a screenshot must be taken of the offending post/comment(s). The screenshot should be emailed, with the reason for deletion, to the Chair.
  - c) Any member found to be abusing their access to a OPG social media account will have their access suspended.
  - d) No officer of the Group should post/comment on any social network in such a way as to bring the Group into disrepute, whether from an official Group account, or personal account.
  - e) No post should suggest an official position of the Group unless that position has been approved at a prior meeting of the Group.
  - f) Posts referring to OPG on personal accounts which may or does bring OPG into disrepute or is of defamation nature will result in membership being suspended upon agreement of two

Directors until mediation has taken place by a Non-Executive Director which may lead to membership becoming cancelled and the member expelled.

44) Conflicts of Interest

- a) Members must declare the nature and extent of any interest, direct or indirect, which they have in proposed transaction or arrangement with the Charity or in any transaction or arrangement entered into by the Charity which has not previously been declared. The member must absent themselves from any discussions of the Charity in which it is possible that a conflict will arise between their duty to act solely in the interests of the Charity and any personal interest (including but not limited to any personal financial interest).
- b) A register for conflicts of interest must be maintained and available for members to view upon request. This is to help ensure the Charity does not fail its legal obligations and further maintain the openness, accountability and honesty that underpin its principles.

[Section 8 & 9 of Articles of Association for Directors].

45) Confidentiality

Meetings may occasionally receive information, which is not in the public domain, often relating to individuals, organisations or financial matters. It is the responsibility of each individual to ensure that this information remains confidential to the meeting or the Charity unless prior authorisation has been given by the Chair for this to be discussed elsewhere. Individuals must never use confidential information for their personal advantage or to the advantage or disadvantage of anyone known to them or to disadvantage or discredit the Charity.

46) Collective Decisions

Individuals will inevitably have differences of opinion on issues debated at meetings. After full discussion when the meeting has reached a conclusion, all individuals must support this decision whether they voted for or against it. Speaking against agreed decisions in public will only serve to undermine the Charity and individuals have a responsibility to stand by the collective decisions and to present a united front.

47) Communications with Other Agencies

There will be occasions when individuals will be asked to, or wish to, communicate with external agencies e.g. Government Office, the local council, press etc. To ensure they are fully apprised of the latest information and that communications are consistent throughout the Charity this should only be done by the Communications Team or the Chair.

48) Hospitality and Gifts

- a) Individuals should be careful not to accept any gift or hospitality which might interfere with or be perceived as interfering with the Charity's business or services.

- b) This does not include gifts of minor value such as pens or calendars, or working lunches or functions attended in an official capacity. However, any other gifts or hospitality offered should be reported to the Chair who will then determine the action to be taken.
  - c) In the case of gifts these may then be returned or donated for charity use. Where a gift is not returned, the donor will be advised of the use to which it has been put.
  - d) A register for hospitality and gifts should be maintained and available for members to view upon request. This is to help maintain the openness, accountability and honesty that underpin the Charity's principles and avoid any ambiguity that might exist if hospitality and gifts were offered and accepted.

49) Complaints Procedure

- a) All complaints are to be made in writing as soon as possible of a situation arising and marked clearly as a Complaint – Private & Confidential.
- b) All complaints are to be addressed to the Secretary of OPG except when the complaint is about the conduct of the Secretary, where the complaint should be addressed to the Chair.
- c) All complaints will be discussed with the parties involved individually at a specially arranged investigatory meeting by two Non-Executive Directors whom the Chair or Secretary has elected to conduct the investigation.
- d) All complaints are to be handled in confidence and only disclosed to those required, outcome or items discussed at any special arranged investigatory meetings shall not be disclosed to non-attendees.
- e) All complaints must be closed as quickly as possible.
- f) All complaints are to be treated confidentially.
- g) The outcome of the complaint may be disclosed to the complainant; however, the details of the investigation including notes taken at investigatory meetings must remain confidential.

50) Actions that will be taken / investigating procedure

The investigating officers should follow these steps:

- a) Full details and clarifications of the complaint should be obtained.
  - b) To protect individuals and those accused of misdeeds or possible malpractice, initial enquiries will be made to decide whether an investigation is appropriate and, if so, what form it should take.
  - c) Within 10 days, acknowledge to the complainant that the complaint has been received; indicate how it is proposed to deal with the matter and inform them whether further investigations will take place and if not, why not.
  - d) Inform the member against whom the complaint is made as soon as is practically possible. The member will be informed of their right to be accompanied by a representative at any future interview or hearing held under the provision of these procedures.
  - e) If there is evidence of criminal activity, then the investigating officer should inform the police. The company will ensure that any internal investigation does not hinder a formal police investigation.

- f) Consider the involvement of the auditors (if appointed) and the Police at this stage and should consult with the Chair or Board of Trustees
  - g) The complaint should be fully investigated by the investigating officer with the assistance where appropriate, of other individuals / bodies.
  - h) A judgement concerning the complaint and validity of the complaint will be made by the investigating officer. This judgement will be detailed in a written report containing the findings of the investigations and reasons for the judgement. The report will be passed to the Chair or Board of Trustees as appropriate.
  - i) The Chair or Board of Trustees will decide what action to take. If the complaint is shown to be justified, then they will invoke the disciplinary or other appropriate sanctions.
  - j) The complainant should be kept informed of the progress of the investigations and, if appropriate, of the outcome.
  - k) If the complainant is not satisfied that their concern is being properly dealt with by the investigating officer, they have the right to raise it in confidence with the Chair or Board of Trustees.
  - l) If the investigation finds the allegations unsubstantiated and all internal procedures have been exhausted, but the complainant is not satisfied with the outcome of the investigation, the company recognises the lawful rights of members and ex-members to make disclosures to prescribed persons (such as the Health and Safety Executive, the Audit Commission, or the Charity Commission), or, where justified, elsewhere.

[Section 56 of Articles of Association]

51) Breaches of the Policy, Organisation and Rules

- a) It is always preferable for breaches to be dealt with in a timely manner. An investigatory team from the Board of Trustees will be established to investigate potential breaches of the Code of Conduct and would be authorised when appropriate to give:
    - i. A written warning concerning future conduct.
    - ii. A fixed term suspension from involvement in specific events or all meetings.
    - iii. Proposal to remove from office/cancellation of membership.
  - b) If it is decided that fixed term suspension from specific events or all meetings is warranted, or removal from office, then a report will be taken to the next full meeting of the Board of Trustees for decision.
  - c) If the decision of the investigatory team is upheld by the Board of Trustees particularly in the case of the decision to remove from office or cancellation of membership, the member must be given an option to appeal before further action is taken. The appeal will be heard by the Secretary and another nominated Trustee who was not on the investigatory team for this investigation. Should the appeal not be successful the member may resign or the procedure to remove from office or cancellation of membership must be followed.
  - d) If there is any dispute about the facts the investigatory team may call for evidence and reconvene later but within a further 14 days.

52) Where the breach of code occurs during any meeting:

- a) Participants should raise breaches of the code as a point of order through the Chair.
- b) If the Chair agrees that a breach has taken place, a first oral warning will be issued to the person concerned. This will be noted in the minutes.
- c) If an individual breaches the code for a second time they may be asked to leave the meeting. This will be noted in the minutes, explaining briefly the reasons for exclusion from the meeting.
- d) Following exclusion from a meeting the Chair will arrange a meeting of the investigatory team to discuss the breach. This investigatory team will meet within 14 working days of meeting.
- e) The meeting will decide whether it is appropriate for the individual to attend any meetings or functions during this review period depending on the nature of the complaint.

53) Whistle Blowing

- a) Members are often the first to realise that there may be something seriously wrong within the Charity. However, they may not express their concerns because they feel that speaking up would be disloyal to other members or to the Charity. They may also fear harassment or victimisation. In these circumstances it may be easier to ignore the concern rather than report what may just be a suspicion of malpractice.
- b) The Charity is committed to the highest possible standards of openness, probity and accountability. In line with that commitment, we expect members, volunteers and others that we deal with, who have serious concerns about any aspect of the Charity's work to come forward and voice those concerns. It is recognised that most cases will have to proceed on a confidential basis.
- c) The policy document makes it clear that you can do so without fear of victimisation, subsequent discrimination or disadvantage. This whistle-blowing policy is intended to encourage and enable employees to raise serious concerns within the Charity rather than overlooking a problem or airing their complaints outside the Charity. This policy is in addition to the complaints policy.

Aims and Scope

- d) This policy is designed to enable members and non-members to raise concerns internally at a high level and to disclose information which the individual believes shows malpractice or impropriety. This policy is intended to cover concerns which are in the public interest and may at least initially be investigated separately, but then might lead to the invocation of other procedures e.g. disciplinary.

These concerns include:

- a. Financial malpractice, impropriety or fraud.
- b. Failure to comply with a legal obligation or statutes.
- c. Dangers to Health & Safety or the environment.

- d. Conduct which is a breach of the law
  - e. Improper behaviour or unethical behaviour.
  - f. Attempts to conceal any of these.
- e) This policy aims to:
- a. encourage you to feel confident in raising serious concerns and to question and act upon concerns about practice
  - b. provide avenues for you to raise those concerns and receive feedback on any action taken
  - c. ensure that you receive a response to your concerns and that you are aware of how to pursue them if you are not satisfied
  - d. reassure you that you will be protected from possible reprisals or victimisation if you have a reasonable belief that you have made any disclosure in good faith.

Confidentiality

- f) The Charity will treat all such disclosures in a confidential and sensitive manner. The identity of the individual making the allegation may be kept confidential so long as it does not hinder or frustrate any investigation. However, the investigation process may reveal the source of the information and the individual making the disclosure may need to provide a statement as part of the evidence required.

Anonymous Allegations

- g) This policy encourages individuals to put their name to any disclosures they make. Concerns expressed anonymously are much less credible, but they may be considered at the discretion by the Board of Trustees. In exercising this discretion, the factors to be taken into account will include:
  - a. The seriousness of the issues raised.
  - b. The credibility of the concern.
  - c. The likelihood of confirming the allegation from attributable sources.

Untrue Allegations

- h) If an individual makes an allegation in good faith, which is not confirmed by subsequent investigation, no action will be taken against that individual making the allegation. In making a disclosure the individual should exercise due care to ensure the accuracy of the information. If, however, an individual makes a frivolous, malicious or vexatious allegation, and particularly if they persist with making them, disciplinary action may be taken against that individual.

How to raise a concern

- i) Concerns should be reported via the complaint's procedure in writing. Should the individual wish to make a written report they should mention the following:
  - a. the background and history of the concern (giving relevant dates);
  - b. the reason for the concern
- j) You should report the concern at the earliest opportunity so that action can be taken.
- k) Although an individual is not expected to prove beyond doubt the truth of an allegation, they will need to demonstrate to the person contacted that there are reasonable grounds for concern.

Timescales

- l) Due to the varied nature of these sorts of complaints, which may involve internal investigators and / or the police, it is not possible to lay down precise timescales for such investigations. The investigating officer should ensure that the investigations are undertaken as quickly as possible without affecting the quality and depth of those investigations.
- m) The investigating officers, should as soon as practically possible, send a written acknowledgement of the concern to the complainant and thereafter report back to them in writing the outcome of the investigation and on the action that is proposed. If the investigation is a prolonged one, the investigating officer should keep the complainant informed, in writing, as to the progress of the investigation and as to when it is likely to be concluded.
- n) All responses to the complainant should be in writing and sent to their home address.

Responsible officer

- o) The Chair (who is also the Monitoring Officer) has overall responsibility for the maintenance and operation of this policy. They will maintain a record of concerns raised and the outcome (but in a form which does not endanger confidentiality) and will report as necessary to the Board of Trustees.
